INTEGRAL

Their busy Automotive Department in Lambert House in the heart of Nottingham city centre, had for some time required a new meeting room to allow the entire senior management team to meet as a group. At these meetings IT and interactive audio visual aids were important so when Integral Interiors were asked to refurbish a room to incorporate these features the design had to allow for all these elements. The Interiors team worked with the specialist divisions of Integral UK Ltd and the furniture designer to come up with a scope of works and design that worked and could be completed within the budget set by Experian.

As the room to be refurbished was "land locked" in the middle of a busy office the logistics and programming of the works were vital to the success of the project. Deliveries had to be made on a just in time basis and key switch overs for services coordinated with the main building to ensure no disruption occurred. The room now provides seating for 14No people at a bespoke table specially designed and built to fit the room.
