First Great Western, part of First Group plc, operate high speed, commuter, regional and branch line train services across the former Wessex Trains, FGW Link and FGW routes. As part of a programme of works across the FGW estate, Oxford's concourse, toilets, ticket offices, station offices and waiting rooms were fully refurbished as part of a major project undertaken by Integral Interiors.

All works were undertaken on a phased basis to ensure disruption to staff and customers was kept to a minimum. Work started in the main concourse with the refurbishment of the ticket office and then the strip of the Travel Centre to create a space for new toilet facilities.

The next phase was on platform 2 where the old toilets were removed to enable the station offices to be refurbished along with new male and female toilets and a completely new waiting room connected to the adjacent café.
